Rachel Berryman is Deputy Head of the AI Center of Excellence(CoE) at the Elia Group. The mission of the AI CoE is to enable and empower the entire business to use AI and Machine learning to harness the power of their data and drive efficiency gains. She has previous experience as a data scientist working in behind-the-meter flexibility and energy price prediction, and has a master's degree in Environmental Economics from the University of St Andrews in Scotland.